Mr. Brian D. Dougal

DEDICATION

Mr. Dougal,

You have given us the encouragement and understanding which has helped us through our years here at North High. You have sacrificed much of your valuable time for our prestigious weekly paper, the Polar Bare Facts, which, because of its excellence, has achieved public acclaim. You find the energy to be the advisor of the Junior Class, the coach of the girls' basketball team, and the supervisor of the Pep Club.

We would like you to know just how much we appreciate your friendly smile and cheerful personality which keeps the spirit flowing through North High. We recognize the endless devotion you have shown us, and we would like to take this opportunity to thank you. Mr. Dougal, with great pride and pleasure, we dedicate our Northern Lights yearbook to you.

Sincerely,
The Class of 1982

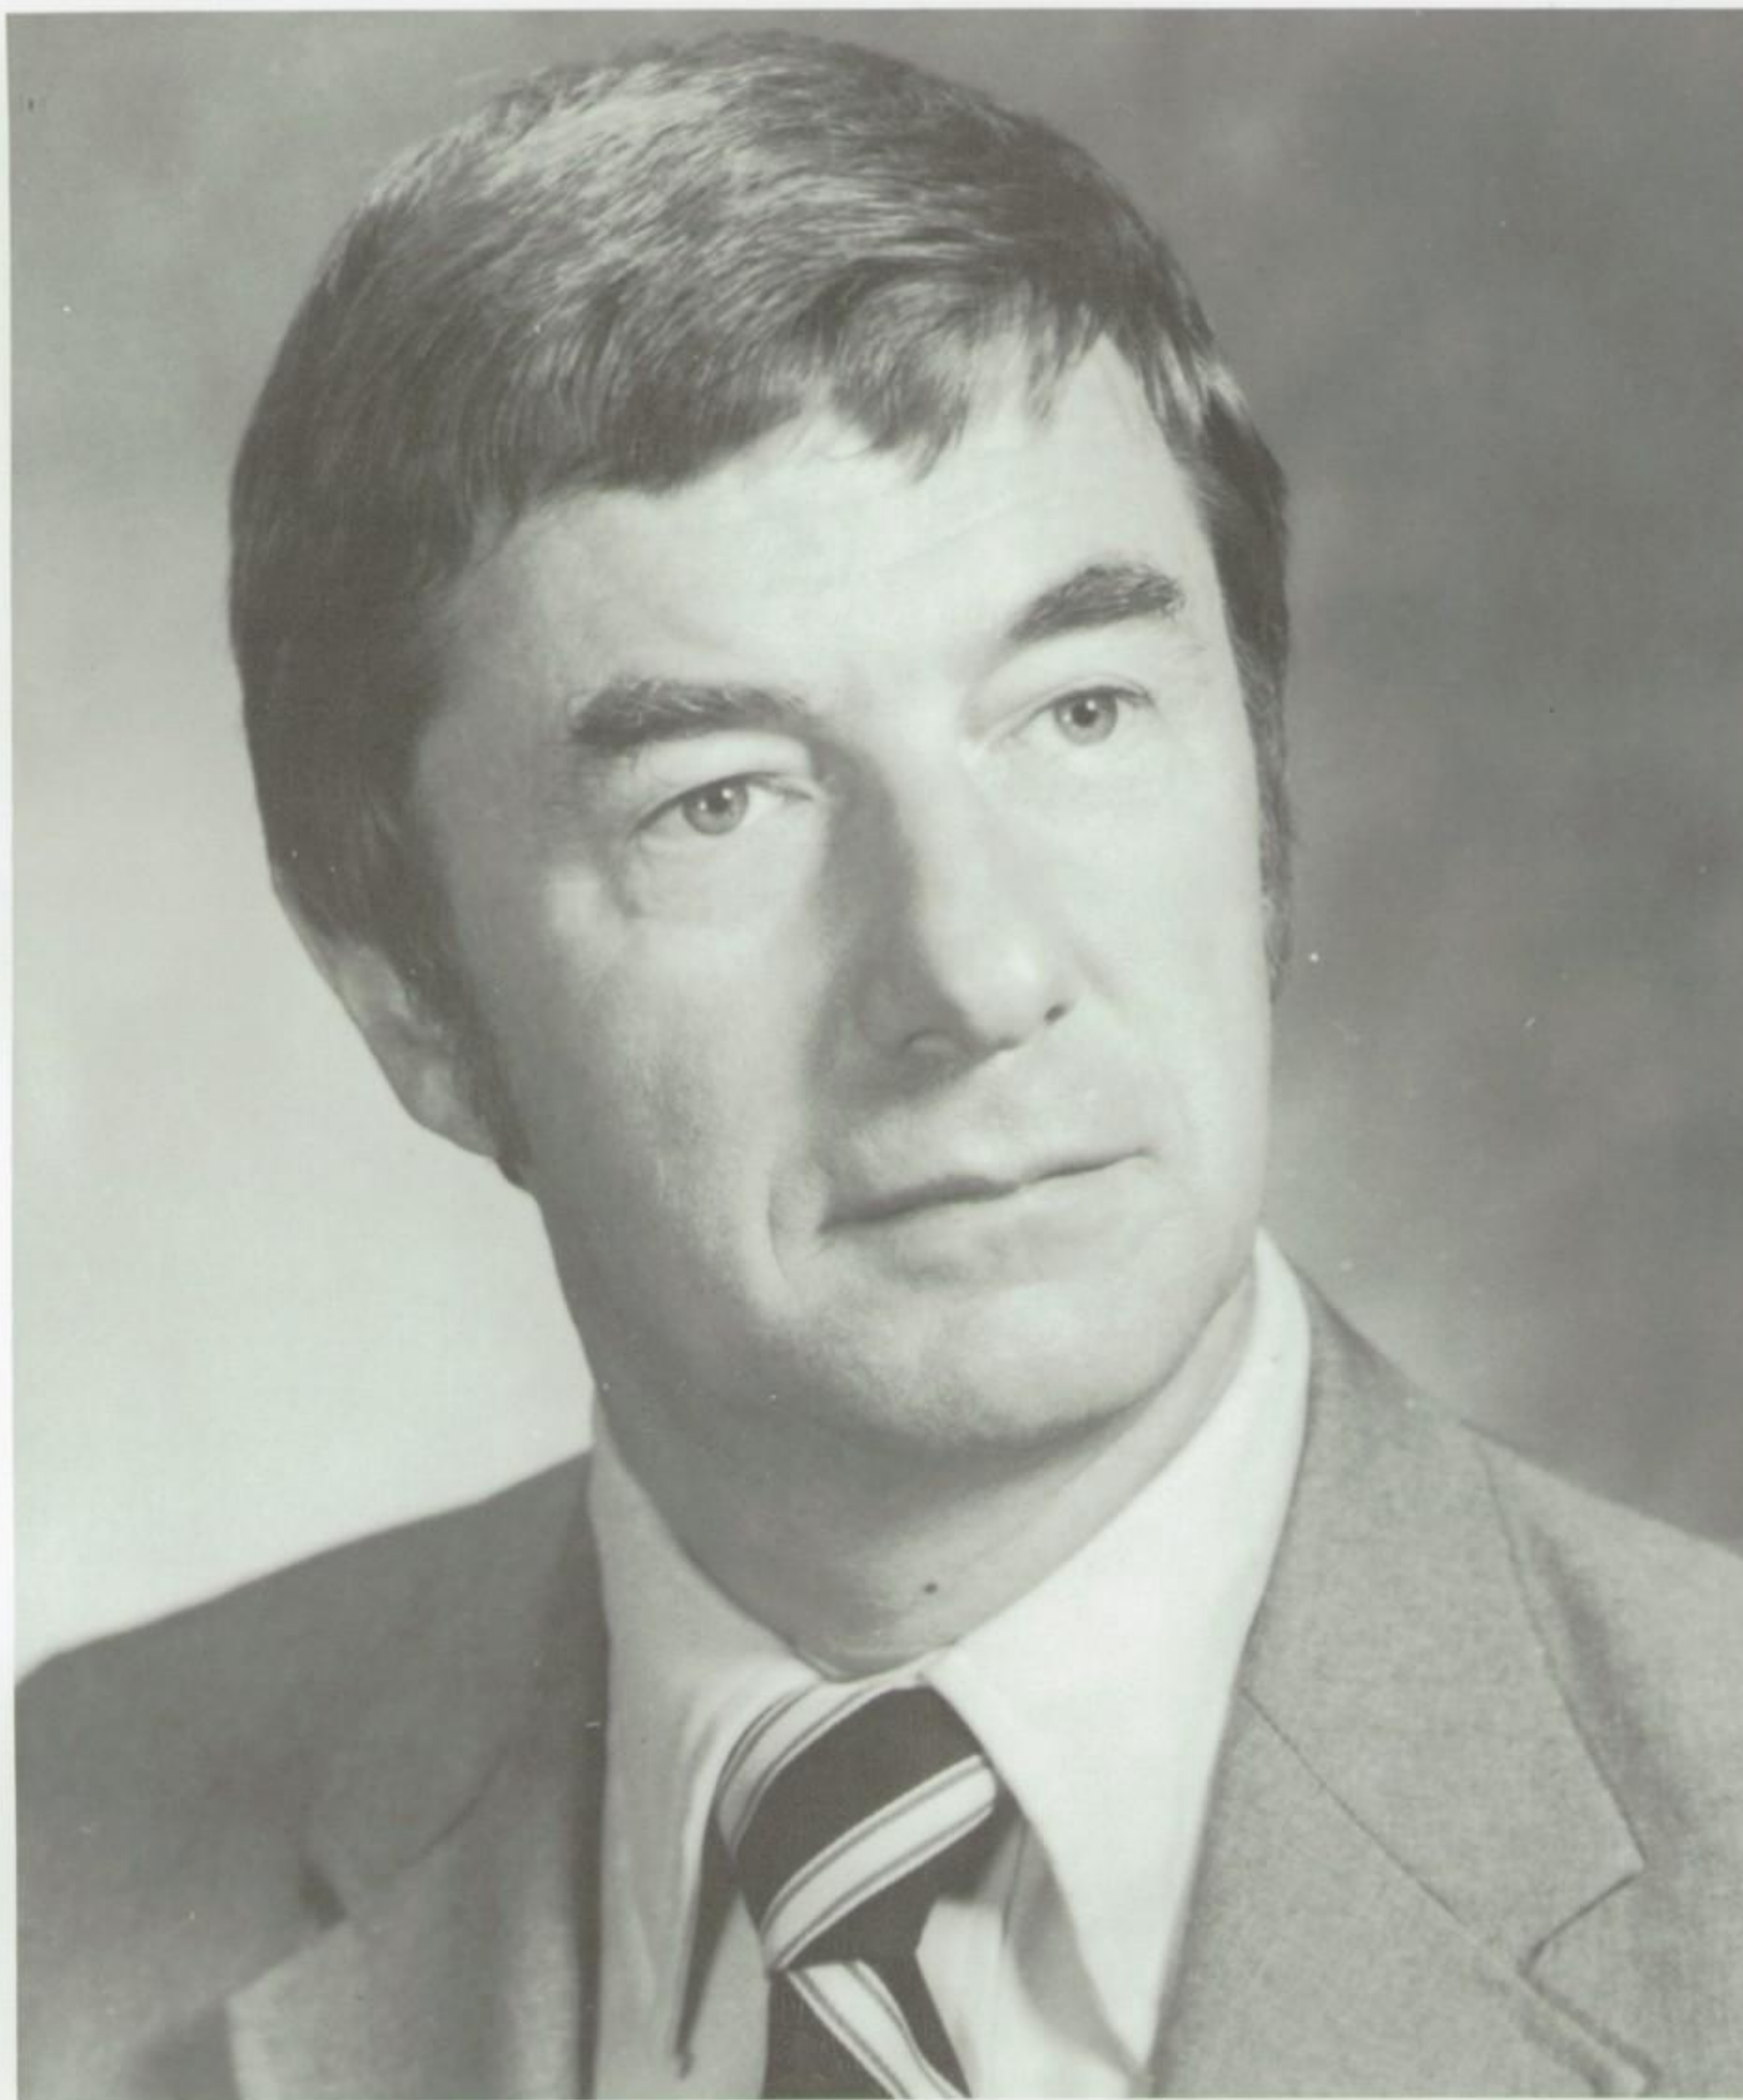

The Class of 1982 has chosen to honor me with what I consider the most special award a teacher can receive. For a teacher, gratification begins with the development of a solid rapport with the student. When this feeling is multiplied throughout an entire class the job becomes an exciting, enjoyable experience. My enthusiasm has been in response to your interest, eagerness and zeal. The dedication of your yearbook gives me a warm feeling and is a highlight in my career which I will always cherish. My sincere thanks to you for this touching tribute.

Best Wishes to you all,

Brian H. Dougal

"Because of you, I am a different person,
And the person I will grow to become, with or without you by my side,
Will have gotten there partly because of you.
If you were not in my life, I could not be who I am right now,
Nor would I be growing in exactly the same way.
We have already touched each other,
And affected each other's lives on so many levels,
That we can never be totally removed from each other's thoughts.
A part of me will always be you,
That much is certain, no matter what happens."

"Love is a friendship that has caught fire.
It is a quiet understanding, mutual confidence,
Sharing and forgiving.
It is loyalty through good and bad times. It settles
For less than perfection and makes allowances for human weakness.
Love is content with the present, it hopes for the present, it Hopes for the future, and doesn't brood over the past. It is the Day in and day out chronicle of irritations, problems, compromises,
Small disappointments, big victories, and working toward common goals.
If you have love in your life, it can make up for a great many Things you lack. If you don't have it, no matter what else there is,
It is not enough."

I would like to share this with those of you that have lost someone. As a young teenager I lost my father. How I can still feel the emptiness. He left at 42 years old, so young. He left with the foresight to leave enough money to bring up his daughters. He left me knowing I had been loved. He left me with a sense of moral conscience, forthright honesty that I admired so much in him. He left me knowing Sundays and holidays were a time for family. How I'd rebel to be with friends, friends I never see today. I would sacrifice anything to spend one more day with him. He left me with so much love in my heart for him, that 6 years of death could not erase the legacy he gave me. I thank you dearly, you never did leave me.

Or vow to make it whole;
It's just a sacred covenant

"Love is something that never dies;
Always there, never uncertain.
Love is not only loving, but being loved.
For if you feel you are being loved, your love
Becomes stronger. And in becoming stronger,
It grows until it consumes your whole life.
And your love should be your whole life.
Love is something you never want to shut
Your heart to; for if you shut your heart
To love, you shut your eyes to life.
And in shutting your heart to love,
You become a plant and not the Supreme Creature that God intended you to be."

I enjoy playing an easy game of tackle football with my friends and swimming. Most of all, I like just sitting down and talking with my friends. I'd like to say farewell and thanks to a special friend and teacher, Mr. Sawyer, who helped me out when I came back to school after being out for a year.

To Frank:

"There's a road to heaven, a road to hell,
A road for the sick and one for the well;
There's a road for the false and a road for the true,
But the road for me is the road to you.
There's a road through the prairie and forest and glen,
A road to each place in human ken;
There's a road over earth and a road over sea,
But the road to you is the road for me.
There's a road for animal, bird, and beast,
A road for the greatest, a road for the least;
There's a road that is old and a road that is new,
But the road for me is the road to you.
There's a road for the heart and a road for the soul,
There's a road for a part and a road for the whole;
There's a road for love, — which few ever see, —
'Tis the road to you and the road for me."

PROPHECY

by Cindy Bullard

Here I am at our 25th class reunion in the year 2007. I could hardly believe all the changes that have taken place.

Anthony Abdella has started his own disco called Tony's Discorama and is employing Nancy Pepper as his head disc jockey, Greg Froio as bouncer, and Jim Collins who tends the bar.

In the fashion world, Trina Celularo now owns 30 boutiques worldwide. Sira Afarian is her head buyer in Paris with Lois Hughes handling things in the U.S. Shawn Benson also has his own line of men's clothing which has brought him many accolades. Other big news is the continuing success of Rey Cartegena as a top male model and Gary Ritacco's appointment as manager of Gucci in New York.

Several of our classmates have made it big in the night club scene. Paul Ferraro has opened a casino in Las Vegas called "Paul's Party Place." Gerry Price is in charge of all the casino's operations. Meanwhile, appearing in the cabaret are the smash comedy team of Daboul and Pusateri. They call themselves the Smothers Brothers of the 21st century. Over in Hollywood, John Bechard is being proclaimed as the next C.B. DeMille for his brilliant production of the life of Orson Welles starring that truly brilliant actor Gerry Montiverdi. The latest talk of the town, though, is Gloria Caprioli for making the Guinness Book of World Records as being the shortest short order cook in history.

Many of our alumni are now in politics. Sarah Devine is our first woman President and Julia Lorio our first woman Vice-President. Their campaign manager Terry Crawford REALLY talked up their campaign. Also up on government hill are Lisa Hickory, defense coordinator, and Jason Laine, director of finances. In the United Nations building we can find Ed Kelly, Ambassador to Ireland, and Maria DelloStrito, Ambassador to Italy, still battling it out as to which country reigns supreme while Nance Rizkalla, Ambassador to Lebanon, still tries to explain where her country is located.

In the business end of it, the class of "82" has produced quite a few car salesmen. Jimmy Hearn, Kevin Korp, and Domenic Paldino have started a used car lot called "Good Stuff Cheap." Their competition is Ruth Pisegna who deals in antique, European, sports cars. The Chez Ruth has made Ruth our first millionaire. John Landry now owns his own auto plant producing the greatest revelation in recent car history — the Moon Mobile.

Our class has also contributed much to science. Ray Fiore is Dean at Harvard where he continually amazes the world with his logic and atrocious handwriting. Mike Healey has also made the history books by inventing the first fully computerized Burger King as well as Michele Marino by single-handedly training 100 parrots to sing the Star Spangled Banner.

They appear at Carnegie Hall every Fourth of July. Debbie Bayrouty and Melinda Troio are renown throughout the world as the chemists who invented the drug that puts every sensation in your body to sleep for 72 hour time periods. After testing it quite thoroughly, with the help of Doug McClain and Richard Childs, the drug is used to rehabilitate addicts with the small problem that it can become habit forming. Trang Le, now a doctor in Texas, has opened a clinic to help these happy fools.

Keeping an eye on all this drug activity is Joe Caporelli, police commissioner of Worcester County. He and his able narcotics crew which consists of Kevin O'Loughlin, Ed Carpenter, Scott Sullivan, Todd Ferrie, and John Kelleher are taking drugs off the street and putting them where they belong. John Leahey, District Attorney of Worcester, is so busy that he barely has time to pursue his ambition of becoming director of Outward Bound. Also in the law end of it, Sean Hurley and Martin Mantalvanos have started their own practice and are respectfully known as Laurel and Hardy. I also secretly learned that Brenda May, Burlinda Pittman, and Marilyn Simpkins are undercover agents known only as BDD's Angels.

In the music scene, Chris Tomaiolo and Sage are still the number one band in the U.S. although they have some stiff competition with Steve Sequeira and Howie Pajala's new band being extraordinarily managed by Gino Fusaro. Nancy LaConte, who has been to every one of their concerts says they just keep getting better. On the country charts, Cindy Derosier is still going strong and is being proclaimed the next Marie Osmand. Going to New York, one can hear Claudia Belevick singing lead soprano with the Met while Gerry Livernois is now head singer for Devo.

A lot of our classmates have become professional athletes. Joe LeBeau, Clark Rowlett, and Marco Faiolo have turned the Patriots defense around and are looking forward to their fourth Superbowl. In basketball, Vada Cruell lead Philadelphia to their second world championship, while teammate John "the White Shadow" McCormick lead the team in rebounding. In baseball, Joe D'Agostino is batting 600 for the Yankees as well as averaging 5 steals a game. Dave Vitols is one bright spot in our beloved Red Sox sad season. Although they haven't won a game, Dave is averaging 3 homeruns a game. In other sports news, Ken Valentin was recently crowned lightweight champion of the world. In hockey, Dave Bianculi led our U.S. Olympic team to a resounding 9-3 win over the Russians while in soccer Sal Arcuri, Tony Paldino, and Joe Villani are kicking their way to fame with the world champion Teamen.

In local sports, Paul Capuano is finally starting for the Shrewsbury Street Merchants. Coach Lisa Pichierri says those extra laps really helped. Mark Perley is coaching a local street hockey team in his spare time and says the little monsters are a nice change from his busy schedule as truant officer. On the women's side of it, Sheree McClain is now sports director of the City of Worcester. Jackie Simms has opened her own health spa and is part-time sparring partner for the local talent. Jamilla Sabree has put her talent for running to good use. She is now the model for the FTD florists. Last but not least, Jane Hedstrom is the talk of the town with her squad of rollerskating cheerleaders. You can see them at every North game.

Some of our classmates have become literary greats. Jimmy Marin has written a book on how not to get sick while traveling. Lucy Solitro has just published a book on how to gain weight. Sue River's book on how to get someone's attention in a crowd is on the best sellers list. News just out is the appointment of Glenn Carter as President of Ebony.

Many of our classmates have settled down. Tricia Aiello is now Mrs. Dembowski, the Polish Princess of Worcester. Debbie Umphrey married her high school sweetheart Frank Dello Stritto. Her unique wedding consisted of all women. Patti Shakour and Tom Herman have finally "legally" tied the knot much to the happiness of all their children. Bobby Domiano and Francesca Dirodi are very happily married and the parents of triplet girls. Gina Mastrovito has married her sweetheart Rich who's promised not to run down any more of her ex-boyfriends. Maria Chionchio is also married and the mother of her own basketball team.

Now to update you on the rest of our class. Norine Paquette and Carrie Muzzy are the new Miss Universe and Miss World, respectively. Harold Avery is head zookeeper at the San Diego Zoo, where, for his efforts, they named the new baby baboon after him. Diana Massad is an advisor to Dr. McGrail's A.P. English class. Dave Ginese has opened his own unemployment agency. Filomena Feraco is a cattle auctioneer in Texas. John Barrell is President of Howard Johnsons. Steve Batsarisakis is a speech therapist who knows when his patients are cured when they can pronounce his name. Diane Belcufine is an insurance adjuster checking out all the latest car accidents. Ann Bisceglia is a stewardess with California Airlines with Anthony Fiorino at the controls. Connie Duguay is foreman of the first all female construction crew of Chris Reid, Sue Boucher, Maria Falcone, Lisa Hamilton, Colleen Moran, Debbie Seigh, and Lucia Puntillo. Lee Buffone, Lisa Palumbo, Cindy Krals, and Gina Porcaro have started their own model agency. Cathy Bullard is now head nurse at Memorial Hospital. Mary Maguire is head truant officer of Worcester County. And last but not least, Julie Cook and Cindy Bullard have opened a motel in Davenport, Florida exclusively for visiting high school students. Business is booming. There's the scoop. See you in 2032 at our 50th class reunion.

HISTORY

by Debbie Umphrey and Ray Fiore

As the class of 1982 approaches the end of its academic career at North High, Tradition dictates that the events of the last three years be recorded for posterity.

We who are alumni of the old Salisbury Street building were fortunate enough to experience the ambience of that place and were deeply saddened by its closing. However, the end of one era signaled the beginning of another as we entered our new home here at Harrington Way.

Sharing in both of these traditions has greatly enriched our memories. We have kindled new relationships and watched each other mature into responsible and special adults. Most importantly, we've helped one another prepare to pass through the doors which stank before us.

Our first few months in the old building were confusing and sometimes frightening. Who could imagine that we naive sophomores would win our first spirit week competition. Clubs were formed and we had our first experiences with our older compatriots and soon to be friends.

We witnessed one of the most talented basketball teams in the history of the school as our boys were virtually invincible until bowing to Cambridge in the state finals.

In the spring we were officially informed of the move to Harrington Way. As the school year closed, everyone was busy packing and wondering who would pass finals.

When the school bells rang again after vacation, we found ourselves at this new building as juniors. Class elections were held and the results were: John Leahey, President; Joe D'Agostino, Vice-President; Cindy Bullard, Secretary; and Nancy Rizkalla, Treasurer. Thanks to our advisor, Mr. Dougal, the year was a success.

Our football team had one of its most satisfying seasons in a long time with a 4 and 4 record. Also satisfying was the emergence of the rock band Sage, whose remarkable talent earned them two Battle of the Bands competition wins.

The retirement of Mr. Thompson was an enormous loss to the school. As a gym teacher and advisor to the Polar Bare Facts, he devoted much of his time and energy to the students and holds a special place in each of our hearts. Mr. Dougal assumed the counseling duties at the P.B.F. and the paper has steadily progressed.

In the spring, the acceptance of the infamous Proposition 2½ marked the end of our junior year and set the stage for the pulling together of all the high schools to try and stop this devastating law.

Our senior year came upon us quickly. Suddenly, we were faced with the search for careers and colleges. Also at this time elections were held. The results were: Ed Kelly, President; Michele Marino, Vice-President; Lucia Puntillo, Secretary; and Joe D'Agostino, treasurer. Debbie Umphrey and Ray Fiore were given the responsibility of preparing the class history.

The football team took to the field again led by Co-captains Ed Kelly and John Bechard. School spirit remained high despite a 1-6-1 record

The highlight of the fall season was the soccer teams bid for the playoffs. Led by tri-captains Sal Arcuri, Rey Cartegena, and Mark Perley the team went to the playoffs but was stopped by Doherty.

As we edged towards winter, the different committees were formed and the senior class raffle was held. Production of the yearbook was beginning and we all put on our best smiles for the often visible photographers.

The boys basketball season began with Mr. Connolly as the new coach. Tri-captains Vada Cruell, John McCormick, and Gerry Price remained steady during a rebuilding year. They finished with a 3 and 15 record

Alongside the boys came the surprise of the winter season. The girls varsity team, with Coach Dougal and tri-captains Diana Massad, Sheree McClain, and Stacy Shavies guided the team to an 11-6 record and many exciting moments.

Now we look forward to class night, the prom, and graduation. Also on the agenda is the exciting spring sports program and the next chapter of the history of the class of 1982.

PHILOSOPHY

We the class of 1982 adopt living for the future as our philosophy. We will never dwell stagnantly in the present. For what is the present? Merely a second between one moment and the next. We shall always concentrate on that next moment, diverting all our energies to that next instant.

We shall build our lives on the thoughts and anticipation of what is to come. We shall anxiously look forward to when the future will be the past. Our lives shall never dwindle nor be defeated for we shall rise up against all obstacles with courage and strength.

Guiding us ever dependably into the unknown will be the comfort of the past. We shall learn from our mistakes and triumphs. The past will be forever aiding our decisions for the future. Those who have supported us shall always be in the shadows of our lives, rejoicing in all we achieve.

From this day forward, the class of 1982 will look to the future with the knowledge of the past ever present.

FAREWELL ADDRESS

As our years here at North High draw to a close, we may stop to reminisce of times past. The hallways will echo the footsteps of our posterity, but our memories are our own, to cherish as we will. We must now move on and take advantage of the many opportunities which lie before us. The Northern Lights will forever guide us over our separate paths, lighting the way; for as long as we keep the spirit of North High alive — they can never be extinguished.

At graduation, we shall part with tears and best wishes, realizing that we may never see some of our fellow classmates again. We must move on and reach for the stars as we live for the present and dream of the future. We shall always hold the memories of these precious times in our hearts.

*Our memories of yesterday
Will last a lifetime
We'll take the best
Forget the rest
And someday we'll find
These are the Best of Times!

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

I would like to express my gratitude to everyone who has contributed to the production of our yearbook. I would like to thank Mr. McGrain for his continuous support throughout the year; Mr. Doherty, a major factor in the publication and fund raising for the yearbook; Arnie Lohmann, publisher's representative, for his guidance and patience; and Steve and George, the photographers, who were always helpful and friendly.

I would also like to acknowledge the diligent work of all my staff members. I believe your efforts are visible in each page of the book. We've been through rewarding and trying times, but I think it's been a valuable experience. I appreciate all your cooperation.

With Sincere Thanks,
